Groups from all over the Diocese of Wheeling-Charleston joined people from all faiths and walks of life from across the U.S. in the 49th annual March for Life in Washington Jan. 21. Parish and school groups as well as members of Catholic and pro-life organizations from the diocese boarded busses, traveled to the nation’s capital, and braved frigid temperatures to stand up for the rights of unborn children.

Among these groups were 43 people from St. John University Parish in Morgantown and students from West Virginia University in Morgantown, many who are members of the campus ministry Mountaineer Catholic at the parish. Their pastor, Father Brian Crenwelge, said he really wanted the college students to be inspired by all the other young people who attend the March every year.

“I think the March for Life is a great testament to our recognition of the dignity of every human person,” Father Crenwelge said. “On a

Pro-Life Rally at Capitol in Charleston Set for Feb. 7

CHARLESTON—West Virginians for Life (WVFL) invites all to join in the annual Pro-Life Rally Day at the Capitol in Charleston Feb. 7.

“Come in cars, buses, vans, snowboard if you have to, but don’t miss it!” rally organizers said.

Bishop Mark E. Brennan will speak at the rally and give the invocation.

Rally goers will have the opportunity to meet with their legislators by appointment from 9-10:30 a.m. They must set up their appointments. They will also be introduced in the House/Senate Galleries when session begins at 11 a.m.

When the House and Senate Galleries are filled, rally organizers said “the crosses we carry will represent aborted babies. According to the latest figures from National Right to Life, roughly 2,400 unborn babies in the U.S. are lost to abortion each day,” rally organizers said.

WVFL encourages all to sign the Unborn Child with Down Syndrome Protection Act, “a bill that will protect unborn children diagnosed with a disability and their families from the trauma of coerced abortion.” Petition deadline is Jan. 31 in order to present it to House and Senate leadership at the rally. The petition can be signed at https://www.wvforlife.org/call-to-action/. Special music will be provided by Pastor Joey and Bethanie McCutcheon featuring Frank Tettenburn’s “God Bless America.”

Details regarding Capitol parking, etc. are found on the legislative website. For more information visit, www.wvforlife.org or call (304) 594-9845.

March ...

Cont’d from Page 1 college campus, most often abortion is promoted, so for these students to see so many other students like them, I think that was very encouraging to them. It was definitely a cold day outside, but it was so worth it to be at the Washington Mall with the thousands of others in support of the lives and dignity of mothers and their babies.”

Many of the young people at the march proudly held signs that proclaimed, “I am the Pro-Life Generation” and “The Future is Anti-Abortion.”

Sailing high above the world’s largest annual human rights demonstration.

The Catholic community of West Virginia’s Eastern Panhandle was well represented at the march once again with a large group from St. James the Greater Parish in Charles Town and St. Joseph Parish in Martinsburg travelling to the nation’s capital.

“We were blessed to send three buses with more than 110 participants to D.C.,” St. James Parish officials posted on Facebook. “It was inspiring to see so many gather for 7 a.m. Mass before beginning their journey.”

The parish thanked the Knights of Columbus for once again providing breakfast; Grace Guiney for making lunches; and Father Bill Kuchinsky, Cathy Kerns, and Alex Mooney for presentations they gave.

Many students from St. Joseph School in Martinsburg, accompanied by three faculty members and parents, also took part in the march as well as a large group from Central Catholic High School in Wheeling.

These are just a few of the groups from the Diocese of Wheeling-Charleston that marched for life in Washington, calling for an end to abortion and respect for life.

The Diocese of Wheeling-Charleston’s Catholic schools will join in the celebration of National Catholic Schools Week Jan. 30 – Feb. 5. The theme for this year is “Catholic Schools: Faith. Excellence. Service.”

The diocese's Catholic schools will celebrate the special week by gathering for school Masses; holding fun events such as silly hat days, school spirit days; and more. They will also celebrate the week by reaching out to those in need in their communities. For example, Wheeling's Central Catholic High School and St. Michael Parish School will hold “Stuff the Bus,” challenging students and families to fill a bus load of needed items for the Catholic Charities Neighborhood Center in Wheeling. Students at St. Joseph Catholic School in Huntington will make banners of encouragement for hospital personnel and decorate bags for essential workers and pre-kindergarten students will make Valentine’s cards for nursing home patients.

“Through these events, schools focus on the value Catholic education provides to young people and its contributions to our church, our communities, and our nation,” said National Catholic Educational Association officials.

The diocese's Catholic schools offer students opportunities to excel academically, to grow in their Catholic faith, and to serve their communities. In a Snapshot of “Our Catholic Schools” at wvcatholicschools.org, Superintendent of Catholic Schools Mary Ann Deschaine said: “Our priority is our students, our privilege is supporting our families, our commitment is to continually improve our schools as we look to the future. Through individual and critical thinking; strong self-esteem; empathy; citizenship; and a sound moral foundation all in a Christ-centered environment, each of our 24 schools prepare our students to be the best version of themselves. Catholic school students in the Diocese of Wheeling-Charleston not only outperform their counterparts academically, but also learn to put faith, accountability, responsibility, and integrity into action every day.”

The application and re-enrollment for the diocese’s Catholic schools will begin in February. Many schools have been and will be holding open houses to showcase all they offer children and young people in their communities. Under “Common Application and Re-Enrollment Timeline” on the diocese’s Department of Catholic Schools website, Feb. 4, re-enrollment for current families begins; Feb. 11, application for parishioners new to the school begins; and Feb. 18, general public application begins. For more information, visit: wvcatholicschools.org/join-a-catholic-school.

The website also features numerous testimonials by students and families on the value of Catholic education. Leo Haid, a 2020 sixth-grade graduate of Parkersburg Catholic Elementary School said, “Attending Parkersburg Catholic Elementary has made me thrive in my faith, knowledge, and skill.”

education are all reasons we chose Saints Peter and Paul for our three children. It feels like family there and has been a great start for academic advancement and raising kind, responsible children,” said Caroline Swank, a parent of students at SS. Peter and Paul School in Oak Hill.

“Providing our children with the best possible education in a Catholic context has been a priority for us,” said Angela Carter, a parent of students who attended St. Joseph School in Martinsburg. “St Joseph’s School has promoted academic and spiritual growth in my daughters, teaching them to be successful in high school, as well as keeping Christ at the center of their lives.”

The diocese has 24 Catholic schools located all over West Virginia. Its six secondary schools are Central Catholic High School in Wheeling, Charleston Catholic High School, Madonna High School in Weirton, Notre Dame High School in Clarksburg, Parkersburg Catholic High School, and St. Joseph Central Catholic High School in Huntington.

The diocese has 18 Catholic elementary and grade schools. In Wheeling are Corpus Christi School, Our Lady of Peace School, St. Michael Parish School, and St. Vincent de Paul Parish School. Weirton is home to St. Joseph the Worker Grade School and St. Paul School.

In the south are Sacred Heart Grade School in Charleston, St. Francis of Assisi School in St. Albans, Our Lady of Fatima Parish School and St. Joseph Catholic School in Huntington, SS. Peter and Paul Catholic School in Oak Hill, and St. Francis de Sales School in Beckley.

In the Central Region of the state through the I-79 corridor are St. Francis de Sales Central Catholic School in Morgantown, Fairmont Catholic Grade School, St. Mary Central School in Clarksburg, and St. Patrick School in Weston. The Central Region is also home to Parkersburg Catholic Elementary School, while the Eastern Panhandle provides Catholic education at St. Joseph School in Martinsburg.

Beloved St. Vincent’s Principal Retiring

By Colleen Rowan

St. Vincent de Paul Parish School in Wheeling will say good-bye to its beloved Principal Laurajenn Rossell, who will retire this year. "Laurajenn loves her role as an educator," said Msgr. Paul Hudock, pastor of the school and St. Vincent de Paul Parish in Wheeling. “She has served our community with dedication, compassion and faith. She believes in our children and she greatly desires to see her students flourishing always. I thank Laurajenn for serving our community and making St. Vincent School a safe and good place for families to participate in Catholic education.”

Rossell has served as principal of the school for seven years. In a Jan. 19 letter to SVS parents, Rossell announced she will retire at the end of June. “I have enjoyed being the principal of St. Vincent de Paul Parish School. We have the very best students, teachers, parents, grandparents, and parishioners!” she said in the letter. “I thank Msgr. Paul Hudock for his kindness and support.”

She said a committee to select a new principal has been formed to find the best possible person to fill the position. “In the meantime, we still have a lot to accomplish and enjoy this school year,” she wrote. “Many blessings to all!”

The SVS community wishes Rossell all the best in her impending retirement and thanks her for all she has done.

Beloved St. Vincent’s Teacher to Retire

When asked if she taught any notable figures or people of importance, Christine Anghie, life-long educator, immediately responds: “I consider all of my students, past and present, as celebrities!”

Anghie taught middle school classes at St. Vincent de Paul Parish School in Wheeling for 43 years. Students remember her as thoughtful, caring and honest.

“She is the best teacher I ever had because she teaches from the heart! I learned so much from her... especially in English.” She not only thoroughly teaches the class content but gives her students pointers for their lives well beyond school, said Jack Klug, currently a freshman at WVU.

Anghie started several clubs and learning activities at St. Vincent. The canned-food drive and “can-less collection” during the pandemic allowed hundreds to feed their families because of her commitment to Catholic Charities and the 18th Street Center in Wheeling.

Christine Anghie

Anghie stood side by side with her students as they rolled thousands of meatballs for the annual Spaghetti Dinner.

Her love for Poetry was demonstrated in developing a Poetry Declamation event where students are encouraged to compose a piece of poetry that they will share in front of an audience! This audience consists of parents, grandparents, guests and fellow students. Students walk away with a feeling of confidence and pride in their work.

Laurajenn Rossell, principal of St. Vincent’s, echoes her love and support of Anghie.

“Her passion and compassion are valued by students as well as her colleagues,” Rossell said. “You only hear positive comments from any of our alumni and their families! Christine Anghie, as a teacher and individual, is extraordinary.”

In addition to her longevity at St. Vincent School, Anghie served as an adjunct professor in English at Wheeling University.

Retired Pope Benedict Corrects Statement for Munich Abuse Report

By Cindy Wooden, Catholic News Service
VATICAN CITY (CNS) — Amending a written statement made to a panel investigating clerical sexual abuse in his former Archdiocese of Munich and Freising, retired Pope Benedict XVI said he was present at a 1980 meeting to discuss the transfer of a priest accused of misconduct.

“He did attend the meeting on Jan. 15, 1980,” said a statement issued on Pope Benedict’s behalf by his secretary, Archbishop Georg Ganswein.

“The statement to the contrary was therefore objectively incorrect. He would like to emphasize that this was not done out of bad faith but was the result of an oversight in the edition of his statement,” the archbishop said Jan. 24.

The 94-year-old Pope Benedict, he said, is still going through an almost 1,900-page report, which was released Jan. 20 and looked at the handling of cases in the archdiocese between 1945 and 1989. The former Cardinal Joseph Ratzinger headed the Munich Archdiocese from 1977 to 1982.

The report identified 497 victims and 235 abusers, but the lawyers who conducted the study say they’re convinced the real numbers are much higher. In the report, the lawyers said that, on four occasions, then-Cardinal Ratzinger mishandled abuse allegations.

Particularly regarding the case of repeat offender Peter H., a priest sent to Munich from Essen in 1980, lawyer Ulrich Wastl described Pope Benedict’s statements as “not very credible.”

The law firm Westpfahl Spilker Wastl conducted the investigation for the archdiocese; the retired pope had sent an 82-page statement to the investigators while they were doing the investigation.

In the statement, the former pope had said he did not take part in a decisive meeting on the case of Peter H. But, at the news conference where the legal report was presented, Wastl read out the minutes of that meeting. In it, then-Cardinal Ratzinger is mentioned in several places as a rapporteur on other topics.

Once the retired pope has had the time to thoroughly read the Westpfahl Spilker Wastl report, Archbishop Ganswein said, “he will explain” how the editing error occurred.

“He is very sorry for this mistake and asks pardon,” the archbishop said.

At the same time, Archbishop Ganswein said, the retired pope’s assertion that “in this meeting no decision was made about a pastoral assignment of the priest in question” remains “objectively correct.”

The 1980 meeting, he said, dealt only with “the request to provide him (Peter H.) with accommodation during his therapeutic treatment in Munich,” a request that was granted. Later the priest was assigned to provide pastoral care in Bavaria and continued to sexually abuse minors.

Archbishop Ganswein assured the people of the archdiocese of Pope Benedict’s closeness, “especially in these days,” and his support of efforts “to clarify the situation.”

“He is thinking especially of the victims who have experienced sexual abuse and indifference,” he said.

Ukraine Deserves Peace, Pope Francis Says

By Carol Glatz, Catholic News Service
VATICAN CITY (CNS) — On the day Pope Francis established a day of prayer for peace in Ukraine, the pope appealed for an end to all war and prayed that dialogue, the common good and reconciliation would prevail.

“Let us ask the Lord to grant that the country may grow in the spirit of brotherhood, and that all hurts, fears and divisions will be overcome,” he said at the end of his weekly general audience in the Vatican’s Paul VI audience hall Jan. 26.

“May the prayers and supplications that today rise up to heaven touch the minds and hearts of world leaders, so that dialogue may prevail and the common good be placed ahead of partisan interests,” he said.

With rising tensions in the region and the threat of a possible Russian-Ukrainian conflict spreading, Pope Francis had set Jan. 26 as a day of prayer for peace in Ukraine.

With the day coinciding with his weekly audience, the pope asked people to pray throughout the day.

“Let us make our prayer for peace in the words of the Our Father, for it is the prayer of sons and daugh-

“These are two young people who joyfully give service in their lives and to our parish, and we are especially grateful for this week as we dig out from the recent storm,” parish officials stated in the church’s bulletin. They are also students at Central Catholic High School in Wheeling. Chaz is a junior and Josie is a freshman.

The parish thanked the brother and sister team for making sure parishioners and visitors of St. Francis Xavier have an easier time getting from their cars to the church and to other places on the parish campus.
Print Commemorates 150th Anniversary of St. Joseph Parish in Huntington

There will be many events and opportunities to mark the 150 years of Catholicism in Huntington — culminating in a week of celebration in October of this year to commemorate the first Catholic Mass held in the city and the beginnings of the St. Joseph Parish community. As part of the 150th anniversary happening this year, artist P. Buckley Moss was commissioned to paint a picture of the church.

The limited edition print is available to order until Moss’ appearance at St. Joseph’s on Saturday, Feb. 26 when she will sign prints in the connection from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. There will also be other art for sale.

There are two different sizes, the larger one selling for $150 and the smaller one for $85.

A total of 30 percent of the purchase price of these prints — as well as any other art purchased on the day of signing — directly returns to St. Joseph Parish.

For questions or to pre-order prints, call Joann Fuller at (304) 522-0897.

Webster Cares Effort Provides Christmas Meals and Toys for Families in Need

The Webster County Office of Catholic Charities West Virginia (CCWVa) held its annual Christmas distribution Dec. 16 with 125 (350 individuals) area families given food to take home and prepare a Christmas meal. In addition, parents to nearly 200 children were able to “shop” for five gift items for each child.

CCWVa has always sponsored a distribution for Christmas, however, in 2007, it was named Webster Cares in order to encourage more community participation.

“We both wanted and needed it to be a community project,” CCWVa Webster County Office officials said. “The cost of the food and gifts became too much for one organization to handle. By calling it Webster Cares, it has encouraged numerous churches, organizations, and even individuals to pitch in and make it happen.

“Thank you to all of our donors who have made this possible!” office officials said.

Donors for 2021 include: St. Jane de Chantal, The Snowshoe Foundation, The O’Neil Foundation, Resurrection Roman Catholic Church Mission Trip, Samantha Crites, St. Anne Parish in Webster Springs, United Bank of West Virginia, Webster County Memorial Hospital, Bergoo Baptist Church, The Custard Stand, Family Resource Network of Webster County, Elk Valley Chapel, Dodd & Reed/Petry Funeral Homes, Cogar Right of Way Clearing, Emmanuel Assembly of God Church, Annabel Armentrout, Hope Hamrick, Jeff & Mary Furr, Charles & Joann Miller, Minnich’s Florist, Geri Kolesar, Point Mountain Community Church, Paul & Susan Bennett, Bennie & Barb Cowger, Seneca Health Services, Starting Points, St. James the Greater Parish in Charles Town, WVAWC, and numerous community members.

“We also want to thank all of our wonderful volunteers!” office officials said.

Warming Hearts and Hands in Wheeling

Winters in Wheeling can be brutal. The cold weather puts many of our neighbors who are experiencing homelessness at increased risk of illness and even addiction relapse. Unfortunately, social distancing requirements related to the pandemic mean that the Neighborhood Center on 18th Street is not large enough to accommodate a warming center along with regular services.

Catholic Charities West Virginia (CCWVa) partnered with Father Joseph Wiley and the parishioners of St. Alphonsus Catholic Church, who graciously opened their doors. CCWVa operates a warming center in their parish hall.

“We are so grateful for this partnership! Now, people who have nowhere else to go are welcome from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. daily. Together and through collaboration with the Soup Kitchen of Greater Wheeling, we serve three meals each day.

“As the weather gets colder, people just don’t have somewhere they can comfortably be for the day,” said Mark Phillips, CCWVa Northern Regional director. “There are places you can stay for an hour, like the library. But at our place, it doesn’t matter what you like look or what you’re bringing with you. We don’t ask questions. People can access resources and get a hot meal.”

One aspect of our ministry here stands out from many other warming centers in the state: Peer Recovery Coaches are available on site for anyone who needs support with substance use disorder (SUD). Peer Recovery Coaches have not only been through extensive training, they’ve also been through their own trials with SUD. They offer nonjudgmental companionship, a witness to what’s possible, and support for those seeking — and remaining in — recovery.

“At Catholic Charities, we get involved in both sides of recovery,” said Phillips. “We help people access recovery programs, and we support people who are coming home from those programs.” Phillips noted that with few halfway houses existing in the Wheeling area, it is essential for CCWVa to offer financial assistance for deposits and first month’s rent for people coming home to jobs.

The warming center at St. Alphonsus is truly a community effort. Besides our partnerships with the parish and the Soup Kitchen of Greater Wheeling, House of Hagar sends a Peer Recovery Coach to the warming center. And we always need helping hands. If you’re available to prepare meals, serve meals, make coffee, or simply spend time with people, please reach out to our Volunteer Coordinator, Keith Miller: (304) 232-7157 or kmiller@ccwva.org.

Por Catholic News Service CHICAGO (CNS) -- Hal- low, la aplicación católica de oración y meditación número 1 en el mundo, ha lanzado una versión en español, Hallow Español, con una amplia gama de contenido exclusivamente para católicos hispanos.

La aplicación – disponible en todos los países de habla hispana y en Estados Unidos - "tiene como objetivo ayudar a católicos hispanos a profundizar su fe", dijo un comunicado de prensa.

"El español no solo se habla en 21 países de las Américas, España, y otras partes del mundo", indicó Gil, "sino que también es el segundo idioma más hablado en Estados Unidos. Con Hallow Español, creemos que Dios continuará santificando la vida de muchas personas más en todo el mundo".

El contenido original de Hallow Español está diseñado específicamente para una audiencia hispana y se actualizará de manera continua durante el año litúrgico. Para su lanzamiento oficial en diciembre, ese contenido incluyó la Novena de Nuestra Señora de Guadalupe, un Desafío Comunitario de Las Posadas, y meditaciones especiales para el Día de los Reyes Magos (la fiesta de la Epifanía). Hallow, que ha acumulado más de 40,000 reseñas de cinco estrellas, está disponible en la Apple App Store, Google Play Store, y Amazon App Store.

Durante el año pasado, Hallow agregó muchos líderes religiosos a la aplicación, incluyendo el obispo auxiliar de Los Ángeles, Robert E. Barron, fundador del ministerio de medios de comunicación de la Diócesis de Duluth, Minnesota, y co creador del podcast diario “La Biblia en un año”, Scott Hahn, fundador y presidente del Centro St. Paul de Teología Bíblica en Steubenville, Ohio; Leah Darrow, esposa y madre católica, autora y presentadora de podcasts; y la Hermana Miriam James Heidland, miembro de la Sociedad de Nuestra Señora de la Santísima Trinidad, quien es una oradora solicitada en conferencias de jóvenes.

Hallow también formó una nueva junta de asesores, dirigida por el obispo Kevin C. Rhoades de Fort Wayne-South Bend, Indiana, quien es ex presidente del Comité de Doctrina de la Conferencia de Obispos Católicos de Estados Unidos. Según su CEO y fundador, Alex Jones, Hallow intenta ser “una aplicación que te ayude a desconectarte de las aplicaciones y la tecnología”.

Eso suena como una contradicción, admitió en una entrevista de 2020 con Catholic News Service.

Sin embargo, mientras que otras aplicaciones religiosas tienen a los usuarios pegados a sus dispositivos, con Hallow se puede descargar una versión específica de su contenido de calidad, emocionados de hacer que el mismo contenido de calidad esté disponible en español”.

Se puede descargar una versión de prueba de 14 días de Hallow Español; información para registrarse en la versión de prueba se puede encontrar en www.hallow.com.

Aquellas personas que ya tienen la edición en inglés de la app pueden cambiar el idioma a español y así aparecerán todas las oraciones y meditaciones en español.

"Pero no ha habido una aplicación que atraiga a sus fieles de habla hispana", agregó el comunicado.

"La tecnología ha desempeñado un papel importante para llegar a los católicos hispanos", agregó el comunicado. "Por eso, estamos emocionados de hacer que el mismo contenido de calidad esté disponible en español”.

Pope Declares St. Irenaeus a Doctor of the Church

By Junno Arocho Esteves, Catholic News Service

VATICAN CITY (CNS) — Pope Francis officially has declared St. Irenaeus of Lyon a doctor of the church.

In a decree released by the Vatican Jan. 21, the pope ordered that the second-century theologian be given the title of “doctor of unity” and said St. Irenaeus’ life and teachings served as “a spiritual and theological bridge between Eastern and Western Christians.”

“May the doctrine of such a great teacher increasingly encourage the journey of all the Lord’s disciples toward full communion,” the pope said.

During a meeting with Pope Francis Jan. 20, Cardinal Marcello Semeraro, prefect of the Congregation for Saints’ Causes, asked the pope to “accept the affirmative opinion” of the cardinals and bishops who are congregation members to confer the title on St. Irenaeus, who was known for his defense of orthodoxy amid the rise of gnostic sects.

St. Irenaeus is the second doctor of the church named by Pope Francis after St. Gregory of Narek, who was given the designation in 2015. He brings the total number of doctors of the church to 37.

Born in Smyrna, Asia Minor — now modern-day Turkey — St. Irenaeus was known as a staunch defender of the faith.

Concerned about the rise of gnostic sects within the early Christian church, he wrote “Adversus haereses” (“Against Heresies”), a refutation of gnostic beliefs that emphasized personal spiritual knowledge over faith in Christian teachings and in ecclesiastical authority.

In October, the pope had told members of the St. Irenaeus Joint Orthodox-Catholic Working Group that he intended to declare their namesake a doctor of the church.

“Your patron, St. Irenaeus of Lyon — whom I will soon declare a doctor of the church with the title, ‘doctor unitatis’ (‘doctor of unity’) — came from the East, exercised his episcopal ministry in the West, and was a great spiritual and theological bridge between Eastern and Western Christians,” he said.

During his meeting with Cardinal Semeraro, Pope Francis also signed decrees recognizing how three sainthood candidates — one man and two women — heroically lived the Christian virtues. The three were:

— Italian Archbishop Francesco Saverio Toppi, the former prelate of Pompei, who was known for his devotion to Our Lady of the Most Holy Rosary. He was born in 1925 and died in 2007.

— Italian Sister Maria Teresa De Vincenti, founder of the Little Workers of the Sacred Heart. She was born in 1872 and died in 1936.

— Italian Sister Gabriella Borgarino, a member of the Daughters of Charity. She was born in 1880 and died in 1949.
